Second Front To Be At Right Time (Churchill)

Churchill Replies Sharply to Any Charge of Bungling in Italy. Suggests 3 Nation Meeting Shortly

In the longest speech of his career, Premier Churchill addressed the British parliament last week. Calling the Mediterranean a "third front," he said that the second front is gathering weight and will be thrown open at the right time for a mass invasion of the continent.

He surveyed the whole sphere of the war, asserting that not a moment was lost needlessly in operations against Italy. American forces are on the island of Sardinia. A conference of representatives from Britain, United States and Russia will be held soon with no questions barred to discussion. The Allies will place an active fighting front in Italy and a French army of 300,000 or 400,000 is being steadily organized.

Mr. Churchill said he had never regarded the African operation as a substitute for a direct attack across the channel. It has been regarded as a preliminary to the main attack.

Almost a year ago, he said, the heavy action began which brought Rommel's repulse. From that time on for a whole year the Allies have had almost unbroken success. While the Allied armies were conquering Africa and Sicily, the Russians have advanced on 100 miles of battlefield from the Volga to the Dnieper, a distance in many places of more than 500 miles.

While forces were gaining strength by land, there have been increasing mastery of the air. The weight of bombs discharged by the R.A.F. in Germany in the last year, is three times that of the preceding year, and there has been great improvement in accuracy.

The almost total destruction of many centres of Nazi war effort continues at great pace with indescribable havoc. The German airforce has been driven increasingly on the defensive, and compelled to build for home defence at the expense of bombers. The R.A.F. has at present in action in all theatres almost 50% more first line aircraft than Germany.

On top of this is Russia and the ever-expanding weight of the U.S. armed services. The American system of daylight bombing is very successful. The new aircraft being fed to British and American forces exceeds corresponding German aircraft supply four to one.

There are possibilities of saturating German defences both in the air and on the ground. This would create conditions of methodical destruction day and night, with small loss to ourselves. Against this is the threat of new weapons being used against us, and unceasing vigilance is being given to such possibilities.

The greatest danger since war began, said Mr. Churchill, has been the U. boat war on shipping. For the four months ending Sept. 18 no merchant vessel was sunk by enemy action in the North Atlantic. The month of August was the lowest experienced since the U.S. entered the war. In the first two weeks of September no Allied vessels were sunk by U boat action in any part of the world. But a new herd of U boats has been coming out in the last week or two, and our immunity is not expected to continue. But if they attack convoys we shall be able to attack U boats.

The output of new ocean building from U.S. has more than fulfilled all hopes, and the Canadian output is remarkable.

In the Pacific

At the Quebec conference much attention was given to the war against Japan. General MacArthur is conducting a large scale offensive in the Solomons and New Guinea.

Hitherto the Japs have been prepared to die to the last man, but at Kiska and other points the method seems to be to save lives of their men. The fundamental fact in the war against Japan is the steady diminishing of Jap shipping in relation to their war ambitions. They cannot hold the areas they occupy except with certain shipping supply. Their losses exceed any means they can obtain of replacement.

Progress is being made in the reorganization of the South East Asia command set up in India to intensify the war against the Jap. This is in close alliance with the government of India.

Surrender of Italy

Premier Stalin was kept informed of the progress which finally resulted in the unconditional surrender of Italy the only terms on which peace would be accepted.

The allies had prepared to land an American air-borne division at Rome at the time the armistice was declared, but owing to the German investment of Rome's air fields just preceding the armistice, it was not possible to carry out this plan.

The Rudolph Hess Errand to England

Was Made at Britain's Lowest Ebb To Urge Calling Off the War, But Get Rid of Churchill

Foreign Secretary Eden has given an official statement on the Rudolph Hess flight to Britain, a visit which has caused great speculation. Hess arrived in England May, 1941, and has been prisoner of war since that time. He came down by plane near the home of the Duke of Hamilton in Scotland, whom he had met earlier at Olympic games in Berlin.

Hess' mission was allegedly a mission to humanity. He was second-in-command in Germany, and came with peace terms for calling off the fight.

What Germany wanted from Britain was a free hand in France and especially in Europe. He expressed horror of a prolonged war and his terms were that Britain should have a free hand in the British Empire, except that former German colonies be returned to Germany. Russia should be included in Asia but Germany had certain demands on Russia which would have to be satisfied (Germany attacked Russia one month later) Britain must evacuate Iraq, and Hitler would not negotiate peace with Churchill, but only with a new British government.

This was at a period of darkness in Britain's war effort, and Hess stressed Nazi power of U boat and air. If the peace terms offered by Hess were rejected, Hess told officials Hitler expected to destroy Britain utterly and keep the country in a state of subjection.

KING GEORGE VI OF ENGLAND VISITS MALTA, G.C.

On Sunday, June 20th, King George VI visited Malta, Britain's Island fortress in the Mediterranean. His Majesty was met by Viscount Gort, Governor of the Island on arrival. During the visit the King toured some of the most bombed parts of the Island. The streets of Valetta, scarred by enemy bombs, were crowded, as His Majesty drove through the town, and when he stepped to the balcony of the Palace the people below broke into prolonged cheering. Picture shows: The King inspecting a Guard of Honour.

Fence-Corner Churchill

The farmer was getting old, but he had to work hard because in this war there was no one else to do the work.

"I've been thinking about Churchill," he said, leaning against a fence post and sharpening his hoe. "It's been puzzling me how he can keep up such a pace and still look spry. Now I've maybe found the answer. Churchill is used to these strains and excitements. He's been in the midst of them all his life. In a lot of ways he is like me. You see, I can still hoe more in a day than any of these city men that have come out to help us. They are willing enough, but they aren't used to the work. They don't get the most out of the hoe with the least effort. They don't save themselves with little tricks that a man learns when he's hoeing year after year. But Churchill and I—we're used to it. That's how we manage to keep going full tilt and even have time to smile."—Printed Word.

Wheat Power in 1933

The Wheat Pool Budget turns backward to the year 1933, and the low ebb of farm prices at that time. All farm products were depressed, and wheat was a much more important factor in farm livelihood than it is today. The Budget recalls the number of pounds of wheat required to buy necessary commodities and entertainment. It took 16 pounds of wheat to buy a loaf of bread; 40 pounds for a pound of beefsteak; 190 pounds for 50 pound sack of flour; 100 pounds for a pound of coffee; 40 for a pound of bacon; 15 pounds wheat for one pound sugar.

It took 60 pounds of wheat for a gallon of gas; 50 pounds to buy a magazine; 10 to buy a package of gum; 150 pounds to get a ticket to a dance; 150 for a can of smoking tobacco, and 16 for a package of cigarette papers. It took 6 pounds to buy a postage stamp to write to mother, and 70 pounds for a haircut.

A pair of overalls cost 300 pounds of wheat; a pair of garters 100 pounds; a tube of shaving cream, 100 pounds; a dozen safety pins took 20 pounds.

Getting into big business it required 3000 pounds to buy a car license, and 2400 to pay yearly lodge dues. The interest on a $6000 mortgage took 84,000 pounds.

And if a man wanted to end all he paid 170 pounds of strychnine.

All Empire Mingle Here

It seems strange that a war would bring to this small town situated in the heart of the Canadian Prairies, representatives from all parts of the British Empire and the United States. Yet that is just what has happened. The various nations, uniting against common foe, have sent their youth to undergo training along with the youth from other parts of the Empire and they have gone on, side by side, to bring home to the Axis, the war they thrust upon us.

With the recent arrival of a Newfoundland member of the Women's Division of the R.C.A.F. at No. 19 S.F.T.S. here, it is believed that all parts of the British Empire and the United States have been represented here at some time since the inception of the Vulcan Airport some fourteen months ago.

This mingling of youth from all corners of the world speaks well for the future when the world will again be at peace and there will be a better understanding between nations and individuals.

"End Not in Sight" Says Montgomery

Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery told a group of Canadian officers and non-commissioned officers that the war will be carried into Germany itself, but until then it was premature to say that the end is in sight.

"North Italy is under German control," he said. "We won't be able to say the war is nearly over until we have carried it into the homeland of the Germans. That we shall do without doubt. Then we will be able to say the end of this part is in sight."

May Have Tires Retreaded Now

No Permit Required for Retreading of Old Tires: Applicants For New Essential Tires Must Certify

Under new order all passenger car owners may now have tires retreaded without tire ration permit. This order does not apply to conditions governing sale of new tires for essential passenger cars. Applicants must continue to certify that tires or tubes are unusable and cannot be repaired. Small quantities of reclaim rubber can now be diverted to retreading of passenger cars.

Many car owners have been waiting for an order that would permit retreading.

Representations that retreading service be made more liberal and that the production of Canadian synthetic rubber plants be increased as soon as possible have been made to Canadian authorities by the Canadian Automobile Association with which the A.M.A. is affiliated.

Officials of the A.M.A. said that, according to information they have received, synthetic rubber plants in the United States have now reached their maximum capacity.

During September 30,000 tons of synthetic rubber was produced in the United States—almost as much as produced during the first six months of the year. By November production is expected to reach 50,000 tons each month.

OUT OF BLACK-OUT

Sgt.-Maj. Royce Clark (Sept. 1st) from Sicily:

"It is quite warm and I am quite happy here. Was quite sick with fever but am ship-shape and ready to go back to work again to feed the hungry troops. I am writing this sitting on my kitbag under a lemon tree. It is laden with lemons but most of them are green. A few ripe ones on top which we are going to get so we can flavor our sardines and have a lemonade to cool us off in this hot, dry climate. Also had the pleasure of eating quite a few vegetables since arriving here even to corn on the cob. While out looking around the other day I ran onto some fresh eggs. We got just six as they are $1.50 a dozen over here. We took them back to camp. Had them for dinner and did they ever taste good. The greatest shortage over here is soap and razor blades, so be sure to include that in your parcel. Had a nice letter from Ralph the other day and he seems to be enjoying his work as an instructor. He is tops.

"Hope you have a nice two weeks at the lake. Would like to join you for the week-end, but right now a stay at home holiday would be more to the point as we have been camping out for quite some time now, and the comforts of a home would be a real change.

"But the sooner we get the job finished the sooner we will be able to enjoy those comforts and that is what everyone is looking forward to, knowing each day seems to be marking a step closer to home.

H. T. Lamont New Manager Of Bank Of Commerce Here.

H. T. Lamont manager of the Bank of Commerce at Champion for the past twelve years has been appointed manager of the branch at Vulcan and will take over his new duties shortly. Mr. Lamont succeeded Mr. George Kyle, recently deceased.

Mr. Lamont has been with the bank in Alberta since 1920 when he was at Lomond, moving from there to Taber where he was stationed for five years. From there he went to Monitor and then to Wembley in the Peace River district. He moved to Champion in 1931 and has been manager at that point until his recent appointment to Vulcan.

Mr. Lamont was head of the Red Cross branch when it was first organized in Champion and he has taken a fairly active part in community affairs.

Mrs. Lamont has been an active worker in all community activities and particularly in I.O.D.E. work.

They will make their home in Vulcan shortly.

JOHN BEFUS DIES AT AGE OF 32 YEARS

John Befus of Champion, passed away in Carmangay hospital on Sept. 26 after an illness of eight months. He was 32 years of age and was born in Russia.

Mr. Befus came to Canada with his parents, C. Befus and the late Mrs. Befus, locating first in Calgary in 1912. In 1935 he married Miss Barbara Wisc, and since then has made his home in Champion and Calgary. Surviving relatives are his wife and daughter Jean; his father C. Befus of Calgary; one sister and three brothers Mrs. K. O. Pauken of San Francisco; Adam and Alex Befus of Calgary, and Henry with the R.C.E. overseas.

Champion Farewell For Clark Rhodes.

A farewell party in honor of Clark Rhodes was held in the community hall, Champion on Monday night, September 27th, with about 75 friends present.

Mr. Rhodes has endeared himself to residents of Champion and district during his long residence there. Coming to Champion from Hillcrest he took over the secretaryship of the municipality in 1932, which position he held until the formation of the larger municipal unit a few months ago. His splendid work in that connection is much appreciated. He was also secretary of the Village of Champion; of the Champion school and of the community hall. No successor has yet been named to these positions.

Mr. Rhodes also played a prominent and active part in all the Victory Loan Drives and has always been a very active community worker. His departure will be a great loss to the Champion community.

He leaves shortly for Hillcrest where he will again be manager of the same store he managed before coming to Champion.

BURNING WHEAT

While the United States and Great Britain are building up food stocks to cater for a liberated but hungry Europe, Argentina has decided to burn 2,000,000 tons of wheat as fuel. The Ministry of Agriculture in Buenos Aires authorized the Grain Regulatory Board to sell the Yacimientos Petroliferos Fiscales, (state oil company) this vast quantity of wheat for delivery by December 31st. An additional 500,000 tons is to be sold by the board as cattle fodder. The official explanation was that it is "old wheat" and its burning as fuel "offers the only solution of the problem created by the shortage of fuel throughout the country."

Appeasing Quebec

There is a new order growing up in Western Canada which knows not isolationism Quebec. This is an order of all the people and it has nothing to do with political parties. We are carving out a new empire, far removed from parochial Quebec and the vote-hunting politicians of Eastern Canada. Our horizons reach out to the Alaska Highway and the Pacific Coast just as our intellectual horizons take no stock of parochial isolationism. Our war effort is expanding every hour and we will have no part with any spoiled child of confederation.

And another thing we are sure of. If Bracken or Coldwell or any other political leader attempts to carry on the old appeasement policy, for one vote he may gain in Quebec, he will lose a thousand on the western plains.

Canadian unity is founded on something more than compromise. There must be compromise in language, in religion, in national customs, just as there is compromise in the ordinary relationship of individuals. But unity in the long run depends upon truth, education, and a sharing of responsibility, whether in war or in peace. It certainly does not depend on appeasement.

Stettler Independent.

And the Bible Says

(Hanover Post)

In many parts of Ontario there is considerable concern at present about the weather. Rain, rain, and more rain has fallen all summer and still continues, and the farmers have had trouble planting and harvesting the crops. Present indications are that plowing and fall seeding will be difficult. So, perhaps it is well to recall the last verse of the 8th chapter of Genesis: "While the earth remaineth, seed-time and harvest, and cold and heat, and summer and winter, and day and night shall not cease." And right now, there is much discussion over rationing. (If it isn't sugar, it's meat or butter.) Most of us know there was coupon rationing by weight as long ago as the last war. But it goes back much farther, and we quote Ezekiel as proof: "And thy meat which thou shalt eat shall be by weight, twenty shekels a day; from time to time shalt thou eat . . . and they shall eat bread by weight and with care; and they shall drink water by measure, and with astonishment; that they may want bread and water, and be astonished one with another, and consume away for their iniquity."

THE HUMAN TOUCH

ANNUALLY the public is given opportunity to assist the Salvation Army in its maintenance of the Home Front. This great organization needs no verbal tribute, no fine buildup. Its work is too well known for that. It reaches out into the lives of needy and unfortunate people, bringing new hope and lightening their struggles. The Salvation Army has the human touch, making personal contacts which vitalize and build up from the first basis of material assistance. Those not directly associated with the work, now have opportunity to give the much needed financial aid without which the all-embracing heart of the organization could not be fully effective.

To instance only a few of the avenues of service—There is the League of Mercy, made up of volunteer Salvationists, who visit hospitals and prisons, talking with inmates, writing letters, calling upon relatives, keeping up a line of contact which maintains cheer for the sick, and hope for the erring. This work operates in forty cities.

Three Receiving Homes and eleven Maternity Homes keep their doors open for women and children stranded in the cities. There are also eleven maternity hospitals, and three general hospitals maintained. These served 21,520 patients last year, and there were 11,487 births. Graduate nurses of the Salvation Army Grace Hospitals are serving in all the provinces, in far off missionary fields with armed forces.

Homes are maintained for boys and girls, whose own home has failed them. These children attend public or high schools, or if retarded in mentality they go to auxiliary schools.

Last summer 645 children were given ten days of freedom and delight at the summer camps in the various provinces. At Sandy Hook, Winnipeg, alone, 543 poor mothers and children were received for this happy period of outdoor life and relief from care.

Not least of the concern of the Salvation Army is for the aged people. The Sunset lodges care for elderly ladies, some of whom may be "problems" for their own people, but under trained understanding care, are meliorated and happy. There are four Eventide homes for ageing men, who range from able-bodied to those physically incapacitated. They find companionship and shelter in these homes.

There is, in addition to these services, an unceasing struggle for reclamation. Thousands of visits are made to prison and police courts, with many committed to the care of the Army. Many thousands are met on their discharge from prison, a goodly number re-instated with former employers or in other work, and material assistance is given to bridge the gap between discharge and steady employment. There is the followup of these cases to assure lasting reform and self-respect.

This is but an outline of the work that goes forward constantly under the banner of the Army in restoring bodies and souls. You can help by giving to the present campaign.

COST OF FOREST FIRES

THE whole area of the upper Highwood is a depressing reminder of what results when fires get beyond control. The last big fire on the Highwood was in 1936, and it has left a wound that will not be healed for decades even under most favorable conditions. The whole watershed of the river was burned off, resulting in abnormal spring floods, followed by a lower water level than should normally be. Natural cover is destroyed for all animal life. Beauty is defaced. Valuable timber stands are destroyed. And this unhappy harvest may spring from very small seed, perhaps a lighted match or a glowing cigarette stub.

Not long ago a small fire started in the vicinity of Mount Sentinel. Fortunately it was quickly spotted and brought into control, but otherwise a great area might have been damaged. It has been suggested that hunters may unthinkingly have been responsible. Experienced hunters are usually the most careful of men, but there is always the possibility of carelessness amongst amateurs. There is an old saying "Matches have heads, but no brain. When you use their heads, use your brain." This is something to remember.

Across the world fires are raging. Blazes are deliberately started for the purpose of destroying the finest fruits of man's engineering skill, the noblest examples of his handiwork, and all the resources and beauty which have been bestowed on humanity. A country which has been mercifully spared this horror of destruction, should be infinitely careful in safeguarding its resources. This would be only a small gesture of gratitude for living in a country unharmed by human fury. It applies to fire prevention in its every phase. It applies to the care which should be exercised in preserving our forests and all our natural beauties.

SERMONETTE

A lawyer atheist once said to a Christian: "Did I believe, as you do, that the masses of our race are perishing in sin, I could have no rest. I would fly to tell them of salvation. I would labour day and night. I would speak it with all the pathos I could summon. I would warn, expostulate and entreat my fellowmen to turn to Christ and receive salvation at His hands. I am astonished at the manner in which the majority of you Christians tell your message. Why do you not act as if you believed your own words? You have not the earnestness in witnessing that we lawyers have in pleading. If we were as true as you are, we would never carry a single suit."—The Gospel Banner.

Finland as well as Italy wanted to quit but Hitler said no. The Germans should therefore be told that they can't quit either when they feel like it and that is not any Axis partner or satellite that will prevent—it will be the enemy. They must be made to take punishment, just as they made Italy and Finland take it, after they had cried enough.

The spokesman for the United Nations should tell them "No, you can't quit. For over a century you have fought your battles on other people's territories. You cannot lie down now when the enemy is at your borders. Your only remaining Axis partner Hirohito, is powerless to prevent you quitting, so we shall do to you what you did to Italy and Finland. You started this thing against our wish and you are not going to stop it at your pleasure. We allowed you to do that in 1918 and inside of fifteen years Hitler was telling you you were not beaten at all and you were believing him because the war had not been brought home to you. This war has been brought home to you by air to a slight extent but you must taste it as you made France and Poland and Czechoslovakia and Holland taste it.

A Pontiac man is suing Ford Motor Co. for $1,500,000,000. If any got judgment against us for that amount we'd simply refuse to pay it.

Spanish broadcasts always gave Axis news first until lately when they gave precedence to Allied communiques. This change has some significance. It is as if the CBC gave air to Prog-Con, or C.C.F. statements equal to that which government broadcasts receive.

It would make no difference what Communists call themselves now that their party is under the ban of the public but would classify as a Communist everybody who clamored or still clamors for a second front. It is an unfailing symbol of the fealty he gives to some other country instead of his own.

In England they are as impudent and brazen as ever. Churchill had no sooner landed than the police had to protect him against a mob demanding he meet a deputation which would demand a second land front in the West. It is to be hoped the authorities have them listed for further attention. They should at least be disfranchised, for if they are not subjects of a foreign power they ought to be.

Churchill had to say that such an invasion would take place. At any rate, he could not afford to say it would not take place. He qualified it by adding that it would take place at the proper time. His critics would say the proper time was last year or now. They are on safe ground. If it proved disastrous, they would regret it on account of its effect on the Eastern front, but their regret would be tempered by the satisfaction they would derive from the embarrassment that disaster would bring the government.

The Winnipeg Free Press censures the government for its mismanagement of manpower and especially the ineptitude it displayed in announcing the disbandment of two divisions. What grieves the F.P. is that it may damage the government's prestige.

Other parties are beginning to suspect that federal Liberals will grant or promise a family subsidy and go to the country for approval. It will of course, be additional to other grants or promises but it is the one that is expected to carry Quebec where families are large and something is needed to wean back the electors estranged by war participation and the threat of conscription. This will teach the C.C.F. that it is not the sole bidder at this auction, and it ought to teach the whole people of Canada that a political party will try to outbid another just so long as the people are willing to swallow promises no matter how extravagant or absurd.

Those who find fault with the Allies for not pushing the invasion of Italy more rapidly after the fall of Mussolini have no conception of the magnitude of that undertaking. A task similar to that confronted Hitler after the fall of France. It called for speedy invasion of England, but speedy invasion called for some other things besides advice from arm-chair strategists.

No matter where he may be, Mussolini in his solitude can reflect with pride on one achievement—he made Italian railways run on time. Not until he went into partnership with Hitler and Hirohito, masters of two nations that boast of their business efficiency, did the railways go off schedule or jump the rails. We would not deprive him of what melancholy satisfaction he may get from reflecting that all over the world railway trains do not run with the punctuality that characterized those of Italy under early Fascist control.

Crime—Punishment

When Emperor Haile Selassie was asked what he thought would be proper punishment for Mussolini, he replied:

"However important it is that Mussolini should be punished, this is only the negative aspect of re-establishing the principles of international justice. Ethiopia is less interested in vengeance for the past than in justice for the future. It is much more important to Ethiopia to be given the opportunity to share in the building and maintaining of international institutions that will prevent the rise of political bullies trampling on the rights of small nations.

When it comes to saving coal—Patriotism and common sense go hand in hand

FARSIGHTED householders are seeing the urgent need of preparing their homes now against this winter's coal shortage. They are acting now!

HEATING SYSTEMS MUST BE EFFICIENT: HOMES SHOULD BE ADEQUATELY INSULATED.

Here are some jobs you should be doing NOW!

- 1 Have your entire heating system inspected. Order necessary repairs.
- 2 Have your furnace thoroughly cleaned by a competent man. Insulate furnace and pipes where necessary.
- 3 Be sure that you have sufficient storm windows and that all windows and doors fit tightly. Have cracks in walls repaired. Weatherstrip wherever it is necessary. Consider seriously the insulation of ceiling and walls.

Many homes waste as much as 60% of their fuel through inefficient heating equipment, inadequate insulation and other heat losses. Winter is just around the corner. Prepare NOW!

Dinosaur Park An
Alta. Attraction

Bad Lands of Red Deer Valley
Holds World's Greatest Repository
of Pre-historic Monsters

The Christian Science Monitor has a description of Dinosaur Park in the Red Deer Valley, 88 miles north of Calgary, which will be news to many an old Albertan. It is described as the world's greatest repository of dinosaur remains, and a major tourist attraction in post-war years.

The Monitor piece tells what may be seen in the Alberta badlands.

"Here in the heart of the Canadian West is a little known Dominion Park almost a souvenir of the pre-historic Mesozoic Age, which should become a major tourist attraction after the war when motorists head northward toward Edmonton and the beginnings of the Alaska Military Highway. It is Dinosaur Park, virtually an open air museum of ancient fossil remains in the Alberta bad lands of the Red Deer River Valley, 88 miles north of Calgary.

"The Red Deer bad lands have been famous among paleontologists and geologists since 1884 when a Dominion mining expert, J. B. Tyrrell, stumbled into the welter of sweltering coulees, wind-eroded ravines and shale cliffs and serrated plateaus in search of coal. Instead, he found the world's greatest repository of dinosaur remains. Some of the gigantic bones protruded from the earth; excavation revealed still others.

"The park area, 400 feet deep and two miles across from plain to plain, still is a treasure house of fossils of horned dinosaurs which grew to a length of 30 and 40 feet and stood as high. Some of the specimens uncovered were armored, some carnivorous. They were of many different types—amphibian, vegetarian, nomadic. Many unknown facts about the life habits of dinosaurs were disclosed as investigation continued in the bad lands.

"This is what geologists believe happened—at least 50,000,000 years ago; during the saurian dynasty there were great changes in climatic conditions. In this pre-glacial age when the Rocky Mountains had not yet been formed the dinosaurs inhabited a tropical jungle. Hot winds swept from the Pacific across the teeming, steaming swamps and swales. A huge inland sea reached from the Gulf of Mexico to the Arctic. Then the weather changed—a process which took centuries—and the quicksands of the inland sea reached from the Gulf of Mexico to the Arctic. Then the weather changed—and the quicksands of the inland sea acted as preservatives for the dinosaurs which perished in them.

"Now this ancient wealth is Dominion property. Fossils may not be removed without permits; park wardens patrol the area. Even now, visitors occasionally pry loose one of the fossil oysters and find a pearl. Petrified figs, semi-precious stones and leaf impressions testify to the tropical nature of the area in the Mesozoic Age.

"C. A. F. Jungling, a pioneer resident of the district, has made a hobby of collecting the fossils of the valley and his farm home is one of the show places of the park area. He has thousands of specimens under glass, frequently has guided government and museum authorities in search of new fossils of an extinct age.

A. Y. Jackson, one of Canada's foremost painters and a member of the almost forgotten "Group of Seven," once called the Red Deer "the most paintable valley in Western Canada." The grotesque, eerie panorama which the wind has wrought with the aid of the centuries still is a favorite attraction for touring artists and sculptors and should lure-camera experts when pleasure travel is resumed.

The Alberta Furniture Company was fined $25 for using certain types of springs in manufacture of furniture contrary to regulations.

There will be much greater volume of farm implements available in 1944. Total sales of nearly 40 million will be permitted under the 1944 quota.

You will soon be asked to buy War Bonds to speed victory. If you are not ready, get ready!

No Debts Should Jeopardize Peace

President Roosevelt has indicated that the United States wants no new war debts to jeopardize the coming peace. "Victory and a secure peace are the only coin in which we can be paid," he says.

The New York Times suggests that if Congress accepts this interpretation then "lend-lease" has been an unfortunate misnomer, for it has led many Americans to believe that they are to receive payment in some form after the war. The name should be dropped at once in favor of the Canadian term of "mutual aid."

There was nothing that did more to provoke bad feeling between Britain and the United States after the last war than the blundering debt settlement made by Mr. Baldwin, one which it was impossible to carry out and should never have been made. Britain's debt to the U.S.A. was paid many times over by the blood of British men who died holding the line while the United States army was getting ready to fight. Mr. Roosevelt is right in declaring that must not happen again.—Midland Free Press Herald.

LET'S BE DOING
... while we're planning

● Everybody is thinking a great deal about the future these days . . . planning . . . getting ready for the period to follow the war. All realize that the war may bring surprises—but the tide is turning in our favour.

Chemists and engineers, producing things needed for war, are making discoveries which will mean comforts and conveniences for all of us when peace comes. New methods of making things, new processes, new materials, now being filed away in blue prints and formulae, will bring us many new and useful articles. Many things not available now will be replaced by better models and designs.

You may have plans for a new home, remodelling your present home, new home furnishings. If you are a farmer you will need new and improved equipment and machinery.

Now, while you are thinking and planning, you can do something to insure that your plans can be carried out. Victory Bonds—which can be bought on convenient instalments, with money as you get it—provide a means of keeping your savings intact, earmarked for things you want.

Most Canadians are saving money. Most of us are buying Victory Bonds and when we buy Victory Bonds we are helping to win the war. We are helping to speed the day of victory and we are doing something that will benefit ourselves.

WHAT IS A VICTORY BOND?

A VICTORY BOND is the promise of the Dominion of Canada to repay in cash the face value of the Bond on the date of maturity with half-yearly interest until that time. A Victory Bond is the safest investment in Canada backed by the entire resources of the Dominion. Canada has been issuing bonds for 75 years, and has never failed to pay every dollar of principal and interest when due. A Victory Bond is an asset readily marketable at any time.

"WORDS OF WINSTON CHURCHILL" NEW RADIO FEATURE

What makes the words of Winston Churchill famous? Is it the man who utters them or the times and circumstances in which they are uttered? The clue may be found in both. Churchill is a man of courage and principle, chosen to lead at a time when the world had been brought to the very brink of ruin by lack of courage and lack of principle.

Every Sunday evening, commencing October 3rd, a series of radio broadcasts will be made at 7:00 p.m., over CFAC, entitled: "THE WORDS OF WINSTON CHURCHILL." Broadcasts feature the well-known columnist and commentator, Richard J. Needham, author of "One Man's Opinion" which appears daily, Monday to Friday, in the Calgary Herald.

In this unique radio feature, sponsored by The Calgary Brewing & Malting Co., Ltd., makers of "Calgary" Ginger Ale, the most famous utterances of the British Prime Minister will be presented and discussed. They will be discussed as milestones in current history, as symbols of leadership by one of the world's great leaders, and—most important of all, perhaps—as the outward expression of the faith and determination of English-speaking people all over the world.

"The Words of Winston Churchill" will summarize, in a series of fifteen broadcasts, starting October 3rd, seven crowded years of defeat and victory, and will show the manner in which one man, because he symbolized the tolerance and dignity of his fellow-people, changed the course of history.

NEW SCHEDULE PRESERVES RATIONING

EFFECTIVE SEPTEMBER 30, 1943

Preserves rationing gives the consumer a number of choices both of products and sizes of containers. Because of the wide range of container sizes and the variation in buying habits across the country it was necessary to put the system into operation and then make adjustments on the basis of experience.

Now that preserves rationing has been in effect for several weeks, it is possible to make some increases in coupon values. The new schedule is announced below and is effective September 30th.

The new doubled ration allowances for molasses, extracted and comb honey will enable consumers in areas where consumption of these products is heavy, to buy more and still leave enough for districts where the total demand is light.

The increased ration allowances for corn, cane and blended table syrups and maple syrup are adjusted to bring coupon values more closely into line with the great variety of container sizes now in use.
